

HOW TO MASTER BOMBSHELL WAVES

JOICO'S EASY TAKE ON DATE NIGHT HAIR

We think there's something kind of genius about a sexy summer hairstyle that eases you into evening...but looks like it came straight from shore. That's what you get with our latest spin on beachy waves; an undone cascade of relaxed tendrils that are just too chill to be called curls. Bonus: We've got Joico hair pro, Eric Mayes, and fashion blogger, Sophie Elkus, to show you how to get on board with just a few pro products and one beefy barrel iron. Read on for the "swell" how-tos....

You'll Need

Joico Instant Refresh Dry Shampoo, Joico Power Spray Fast-Dry Finishing Spray, Joico Power Whip Whipped Foam, curling irons and duckbill clips

01. Prep Hair

Start with relatively straight hair, brushed out and parted according to your preference. If hair is too clean or straight spray Instant Refresh dry shampoo at the roots for added grip.

02. Add Volume

Add volume to strands with Power Whip mousse, which is made with Plum Kernel Oil for enhanced moisture and heat protection. Apply a quarter-size amount evenly, all over strands.

03. Create Sections

Clip the top section of hair up and away, leaving the bottom layer ready for heat styling. Grab hair in 1 to 2 inch sections and smooth with hands in preparation.

04. Create Waves

Wrap sections around a 2" curling iron, leaving a couple of inches out at the bottom for a more natural, beachy look. Hold for 10 seconds and then release.

05. Add Definition

Curl a few sections with a 1" curling iron for added dimension and definition. Alternate the direction in which you wrap the curl every time as well.

06. The Final Look

Once you've wrapped every section with one of the two curling irons, set hair with Power Spray finishing spray all over.

Style It With

Take a LBD to a more girly place with jeweled accessories and pops of burgundy and pink.
